THE INTELLIGENCER.

WHEELING, JUNE 27, 1899.

A Feature of the Carnival Parade. Wheeling had on her holiday garb yesterday, and thousands of citizens and visitors from other cities, towns and villages, and the country roundabout, gathered to witness the parade that contained the representatives from several nations, tribes and races. The spectacle of Turks, Persians, American Indians, Egyptians, Japanese, fair types of them all, in their varied, fantastic and native costumes, not so handsome as the long line of members of the Eik lodges, but decidedly more interesting in their unique appearance, the like of which aggregation was never before witnessed here, amazed the crowds.

It was a carnival indeed, and educational, in a sense. A marked contrast was presented between the various types of civilization presented, begin-ning with the genuine savage, arrayed in his gorgeous feathers and brilliant war paint, ranging upward through the various stages, as represented by the orientals, and the highest types of civilized people furnished by our own and surrounding communities. These representatives of modern Americanism, typified by the marshals in silk hats, spike-tail coats, with roses in the lapels, mounted on handsome steeds—so hand-some that it was hard to tell which was the most admirable, the horses or the graceful riders—and the white-hatted representatives of our citizenship who followed and who deserved the plaudits of their enthusiastic friends.

Old Glory was predominant along with the purple and white, and the sun which shines in the many skies over the countries whence hailed the various types of humanity shone brilliantly upon the diversified scene.

As to the big street fair proper, It meets expectations in every resepct. The handsome booths, beautifully dec-orated, representing every sort of business and various institutions, form a diversity of attractions that reflect great credit on the management. It is expansive and is accordingly appropriate to the prevailing sentiment for expansion which has taken hold of the country. The opening exercises and the large attendance indicate that the enterprise will be a centre of interest during the week.

At the Old Trick.

Some of the western Democratic papers are doing their level best to head off the silver issue as one of those to be included in next year's national platform. In doing so they are widening the breach in the party and stulti-Sentinel, which is the leading Democratic organ of the state of Indiana, who in an interview recently published, used the following language, which is not unlike some other expressions we have lately quoted:

have lately quoted:

"The financial declaration of 1856 will be relterated, but it will not and should not form the dominant issue. If it does we cannot win. I say that as a bimetallist. I am a silver man, but I believe we can do nothing with the currency question for some time to come. The Republicans will control the senate practically for the next six years, so there is no hope of any silver legislation in, that time. So long as these conditions prevail, therefore, I don't see anything to be rained by making a leading issue of the silver question. With these-anni-trust anti-militarism and proposed to the silver question. With these-anni-trust anti-militarism and proposed in the candarism we can go into the campaign text year with bright houes. I believe the prospects for Democratic success were never brighter. With such planks as these we will have a platform that appeals to the people at large."

The Washington Star, quoting these

The Washington Star, quoting these sentiments from the Indianapolis editor, shows up his inconsistencies in a way that will apply just as well to other Democratic editors and politicians who are taiking on the same line. The Star recalls the fact that the expression quoted comes from a man who assisted Mr. Cleveland in 1892, and that gentleman, after his election, rewarded him by making him consul general at Paris. This editor was a silver man then as he is now, but he knew that President Cleveland was for sound money and a deadly enemy of free silver. But the editor kept back the silver question, for the sake of winning. "Thus," says the Star, "was Mr. Cleveland elected by a free sliver party on the tariff question, but fate forced silver to the front, and divorced the President from his party and disrupted the organization."

The quotations above show that the Sentinel editor wants to work for his political ambitions with the same game.

back seat and other questions must be

This is cowardly, to say the least of it, but the editor from Indianapolis isn't alone in the camp of this class of Demeratic statesmen. There are But they cannot blind the public this time. The Washington paper tells why the game is a bunco scheme, and why no political leader or party can afford to practice it, in the following para-

As the Star stated list week, the last Cleveland campaign and its results, which were quite as unfortunate for the country as for the Democratic party, are too fresh in memory to make it possible for another game of bunco at this time to be successfully played. The candidate must truly represent his party, and both parties must define their politics clearly and sincrely. No sailing under false colors. No shipping with a skipper likely or liable to chance his flag as soon as he clears port and takes complete command. The man whose only desire is to win, and whose suggestions are in the line of suppressions and evasions, will hardly be delegated to pick a rendidate or write a platform for next year.

There is a world of wholesome truth n this. Some of our West Virginia Democratic organs and some few of the leaders are taking the position which is here rebuked. The Republican party is not, as a party, showing any inclination to avert any issue. It will stand by the principles and the policies that have brought the present era of prosperity, and hold up the hands of a brave President who has borne a mighty responsibillty enforced upon him, in the face of vicious opposition, such as that which | Fair Play Wants an Explanation from had to be met by preceding Presidents under similar circumstances, not excepting Abraham Lincoln.

Increase in Church Growth.

In view of recent occurrences in the Presbyterian assembly a correspondent of an eastern paper made the point that Presbyterianism is out of line of approval, popular and Divine, and that its influence is on the wane." The statement has brought out the fact that none of the leading religious denominations are on the wane in any particular. A writer quotes the religious statistics of last year (1898), which show the following rates of increase among the larger ones, which may be of interest in a general way:

Rank.

Following these are the many smaller denominations, the Protestant Episcopal increasing .0320 per cent., standing next in rate of increase to the Presbyterian, which stands first. There are several branches of these denomina-tions, the statistics referring only to the main bodies

The New York Commercial and Financial Chronicle, having remarked that "what the country needs is a new bank currency; one that is adjusted automatically to the varying volume of industrial requirements-never too little outstanding, and never too much," the Sun sareastically comments on this impracticable suggestion by saying: "What the country needs still more is a new arrangement of the weather, whereby the supply of rain will be adjustable to the varying needs of farmers-never too little, never too much; but it can never be had by legislation; and the currency the Chronicle asks for is equally beyond legislative power." It would require a greater financial authority than the Chronicle to adjust a currency to the "varying volume of industrial require-ments." Where is the prophet who ments." Wherever the American flag floats, whether on land or sea, and that means on both hemispheres, on two oceans, in many seas, and over many islands, the Fourth of July will be celebrated a week from to-day. Old Glory will be brighter and prouder than ever this year.

The Kentucky Democrats are in a pretty mess. It is a good opportunity for the Republicans, if they are wise enough to act discreetly and take this advantage.

One Woman's Wisdom.

He had proposed to the idol of his heart, but things had falled to come his way.

"Do you know?" he said, as he was leaving her presence forever, "that you are wringing my heart from my ho-som?"

"Possibly," she answered coldly, "but it's either that or marry you and wring the bosoms from your shirts in after years."

political ambitions with the same game. His highest ambition is to win at the polls regardless of principles. He says, virtually, that the Democracy is still for silver, but must not make silver a main issue; if it does the people are against it and the Democrats will lose. The thing to do is to win. DR. KILMER'S SWAMP-ROOT

Is Not Recommended for Everything.

But if You Have Kidney or Bladder Trouble it Will be Found Just the Remedy You Need.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon dis-appear when the kidneys are out of or-day or discussed.

beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afaleted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, and it is yet affileted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder, and not to a habit as most people suppose.

So we find that women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Dinghamton, N. Y., mention the Wheeling Daily Intelligencer.

THE TELEPHONE ORDINANCE.

the Council Committee.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.
SIR:—It is proclaimed from the house tops and on the walls of the city that majority of the committee on ordinances of the city council propose that this city shall grant a franchise for teiephone purposes to a company with a capital stock of $500 and shares of a par value of $10 cash, permitting a maximum charge of $42 per year for a telephone, when another company offering mum charge of $42 per year for a telephone, when another company offering to take a similar franchise, with the maximum price placed at $24, was received with a coldness that resembled a Klondike winter.

The company offering the $24 'phones was delayed, by reference of its ordinance to the city solicitor, and this reference was ostensibly for the opinion of the solicitor. The reference was made after the attorney for the $24 company had agreed with the committee that his company would accept and comply with all the recommendations of amendment the solicitor had just stated he advised the insertion of in the first named company's ordinance, thus rendering such reference useless delay and an unwarranted show of partiality. It was also made by a committee who had just shown its entire and utter contempt for the solicitor's opinion by ignoring his vital and most important advice concerning necessary amendments to the $42 telephone company's ordinance. This reference by such a committee is mere child's play. It deceives no one. The committee will probably ignore any report the solicitor may make.

Not a single member of the commit-Not a single member of the commit-tee, when the offer to accept a $24 limit was made, raised his voice in disap-proval of a grant of a franchise per-mitting the other company to charge $42 per 'phone. No man asked that $24 be inserted in the ordinance instead of $42, but, on the contrary, a majority of these honorable men voted to request council to pass the ordinance with the $42 in it.

'O, Tempora! O, Mores!" The men so voting were elected to carefully safe-guard the interests of the public. Have hey done so? They are the chosen trustees of our would be able to comply with varying requirements? The Sun's point covers the whole question in a nutshell.

The value of a punctuation mark in telegraphing is demonstrated by the suit of an Akron, Ohio, firm to recover from a cable company damages for the use of a period instead of a hyphen in sending a quotation to a customer in Europe. It caused the customer to file a large order at a price below the quotation, and the Akron company was obliged to fill it. It was a small error, apparently, but it cost this firm considerable money. The incident is an example of the care required on the part of telegraph operators in sending commercial dispatches, and accounts for the fact that the telegraph companies aim to obtain only the best talent.

One of the strongest evidences that some of the Cuban leaders are becoming Americanized rapidity is that they are quarreling over the distribution of political offices. The military heroes who have refused to ablde by the agreement reached between Gomez and this government are complaining that more offices are given to civilians than to themselves. So they have organized a society to operate as a political bady. Give us men!
